

HOT TOPICS

This is a new section of the PRA website intended to keep residents informed about a variety of “hot topics”, i.e., those that could have an important effect on our community. The section will begin with current and proposed development projects. Other areas besides development, such as the status of education in the county, the county budget, environmental concerns, etc. will be added over time.

Each project or item will be presented in a single document that will include a description and the latest status and may include: links to related documents; issues to be considered; pro/con arguments; and next steps.

Residents are invited to suggest topics and relevant documents to be included in this section of the website. The PRA Executive Committee will be responsible for editorial management.

The first item is an information page explaining how residents can express their opinions to the Montgomery County Planning Board, to the Montgomery County Council, and to the Montgomery County Executive.
